

2010

Be part of this unique two-day experience designed for those who have completed David's four-day seminar, and wish to continue building capacity to lead school and classroom improvement

What is the Quality Learning Master Class?

David's two-day Quality Learning Master Class provides an opportunity for individuals and teams to extend their learning and application of Quality Learning tools, principles and practices.

The Master Class provides practical 'how to' strategies and tools to improve student learning, building capacity to lead continuous and sustainable school and classroom improvement. There is a focus on the use of technology to support learning.

Designed for those wanting to learn more from the 'Quality Learning Master', the Master Class is capped at 50 participants to maximise interaction and sharing.

What will I learn?

The Master Class extends skills and experience in the use of Quality Learning methods and tools, with particular emphasis on:

- System Analysis through System Mapping
- Using Capacity Matrices to plan, monitor, resource and improve learning
- Flowcharting processes to build ownership, strengthen stakeholder relationships and facilitate continuous improvement
- Ways to improve teamwork through the use of tools like the POPE and Decision and Action Record
- Creation of a library of electronic examples and tools.

Where & when can I go?
